Artá Capital acquires a stake in Magapor, one of the world leaders in swine artificial insemination technology, to drive its international growth plan

Madrid, July 27th, 2026

Artá Capital has reached an agreement with the Mena Gericó family to enter in the shareholder capital of Magapor, S.L. ("Magapor"), a world-leading company in the design, development, manufacturing and commercialization of technology and products for porcine artificial insemination. The transaction marks the entry of Artá Capital as the Group's reference partner, with the aim of supporting the next phase of international growth.

Founded and headquartered in Ejea de los Caballeros (Zaragoza), Magapor is a benchmark company in the animal reproductive biotechnology sector, with over 35 years of track record. The Group offers a comprehensive range of solutions — including semen extenders, catheters, insemination bags and specialised equipment — distributed across more than 60 countries through a well-established international commercial network. In 2025, the Group achieved consolidated revenues of approximately €24 million (73% of international sales).

The company will continue to be led by Jesús Mena Gericó and Juan José Mena Gericó, who will also retain a significant stake in the capital. Artá Capital's intention is to support the management team in accelerating the Group's internationalisation, strengthening its R&D capabilities and consolidating its global leadership in the porcine reproduction sector.

Artá Capital was advised by Garrigues as legal adviser, by Auren as financial adviser, by Deloitte for financial, tax, legal and labour due diligence, by PwC for commercial due diligence, and by Kenta Capital as debt adviser.

This will be the fifth investment of Artá Capital Fund III, fund closed in November 2024 with a size of €400 million.
